Obituary

Sharon J. Durden was born on February 27, 1969 in Harlem Hospital, New York. She is the last child of Constance J. Darden and John.

For those that knew Sharon she was a loving and caring person. She was an aunt, sister, as well as a friend. Sharon was also very smart, she was a great listener and gave advice when needed; as well as took advice when she needed it.

Sharon lived a fulfilled life. She never let anything or anyone bring her down. She had her ups and downs, but that never stopped her from living life.

She is in heaven and reunited with her mother, Constance; father, John; two sisters, Judith and Olga; two brothers, Victor and Bobby; and other relatives who preceded her.

She leaves to mourn: two sisters, Veronica and Deborah; a host of nieces and nephews; and a host of other relatives and friends.

LIGHT A CANDLE

© J

light a candle,
see it glow,
watch it dance,
when you feel low,
think of me,
think of light,
I'll always be here,
day or night,
a candle flickers,
out of sight,
but in your heart,
I still burn bright,
think not of sadness,
that I'm not near,
think of gladness,
and joyous cheer,
I have not left,
I am not gone,
I'm here to stay
my little one,
so when you light a candle
and you see it glow
and you watch it dance
in your heart you'll know that I would never leave you even when you feel so blue I'm sitting up here with the Lord and now watching over you
