

When Tomorrow Starts Without Me

When tomorrow starts without me, and I'm not there to see if the sun should rise and find your eyes, all filled with tears for me. I wish so much you wouldn't cry, the way you did today, while thinking of the many things, we didn't get to say. I know how much you love me, as much as I love you, and each time that you think of me, I know you'll miss me too. But when tomorrow starts without me, please try to understand that an angel came and called my name, and took me by the hand and said, "my place was ready, in heaven far above and that I'd have to leave behind, all those I dearly love." But when I walked through heaven's gates, I felt so much at home. When God looked down and smiled at me, from His great golden throne. He said "This is eternity, and all I've promised you." Today for life on earth is past, but here it starts anew. I promise no tomorrow, for today will always last. And since each day's the same way, there's no longing for the past. So when tomorrow starts without me, don't think we're far apart. For every time you think of me, I'm right here in your heart.

Fuqaan Lavar Gleaton was born in Jersey City Medical Center on December 21, 1979, to Rosa Gleaton and Leonza "Fuqaan" Daniels.

Fuqaan attended elementary school in Jersey City, and graduated from PS #40. He attended Snyder High School for a while, but took a break. He later received his high school diploma from Dickinson High School which was one of his goals. Fuqaan being a very goal driven person, later made up his mind to get his driver's license. After studying and driving lessons, he soon achieved goal #2. Fuqaan had plans to further his education at Hudson County Community College, which was goal #3. Fuqaan worked for Hudson Community Enterprises from the age of 18. This is where he trained to work in neighborhood improvement and litter patrol, along with the incinerator authority, where he eventually maintained his own district in Jersey City Heights. He later worked at Meat City in Bayonne, until they closed their doors for good. At the time of his untimely demise, he worked as a canvasser for the New Jersey Elections board. He worked extremely hard for Obama's Presidency as well as Jersey City's mayor elections, the late Glenn Cunningham.

Fuqaan had many hobbies that he really enjoyed. Fuqaan was a #1 NY Giants fan, he loved the Giants and got to witness their first and only win this season. He also loved wrestling. He and a group of young men were being trained by a professional wrestler known as "Mambo King" at the Jersey City YMCA. His wrestler name was "Big Tac" which stood for "Trashing all competitors" in honor of his job as a street cleaner on litter patrol. He later discovered that he had skills as a rapper. He and his cousin Makeda Gleaton, wrote and recorded all of their rhymes, calling themselves "2sided".

More than anything, Fuqaan was a Born again Christian, and very proud of it. He had a pure heart when it came to his faith and he loved his Lord and Savior Jesus Christ and was not ashamed to share his faith. His favorite bible scripture was Psalm 91. He also loved to pray and ask God for direction in his life. Fuqaan went to sleep and didn't wake up, but peace was all over his face. God gently called him home. God Bless "Big Fu." Fuqaan loved his family and also loved being with them, especially when there was plenty of food involved. He was loved by so many near and far, especially in his community. He will forever be known for his big personality and his infectious smile. He had so many questions and was never afraid to ask them no matter what they were.

Fuqaan was raised by his loving Grandparents from the age of 2. Mrs. Bertha Gleaton who is now 93 years old, and his late Grandfather, Cornell Gleaton Sr.

He leaves to mourn his Grandmother who he loved to kiss all day, Mrs Bertha Gleaton, his mother that he loved unconditionally, Rosa Gleaton, His younger brother, Hasaan Gleaton, his aunt Mary Gleaton who he had a close and special relationship with, as well as uncles, James (Deanie) and Cornell Gleaton Jr. Loving aunts, Sue, Bertha, Barbara Gleaton and Dawn Gleaton- Loftin as well as his oldest aunt and his fathers only sibling, Majorie Boone and a special cousin Kareem Walston who grew up in the same household being raised as brothers. Fuqaan is preceded in death by his father Leonza Daniels, Grandfather Cornell Sr. older brother Leonza Gleaton, Special Aunt Martha Britton and Uncles Charles and Jerome Gleaton. He also leaves to mourn a host of cousins, many other family members and friends.

Fuqaan was loved by so many and will be missed by all.
