Obituary

Noah Brandon Breckenridge was born as one of a set of identical twin sons to Franshawn Breckenridge and Tony Smith on July 5, 1989, at Harlem Hospital in New York City. He was very bright and was able to accomplish a lot throughout his life. Noah as a young child was high-spirited and active. He was raised and educated in the New York City Public School system from daycare through high school; and was a member of the Boy Scouts of America and played on a youth baseball team in Harlem. He was well-liked and had plenty of friends. Noah was family-oriented and spent much of his time with his brothers, especially his twin brother Noel and his cousin Brandon before he moved to Georgia with his mom Michelle Danzy, his brothers, amongst his other cousins and relatives. He continued his education at South Gwinnett High School in Snellville. While in Georgia, Noah was able to bond with his family in a different atmosphere as he became a young father to his first-born son, Jayden Barker.

As an adult soon thereafter, Noah moved back to and remained in New York City, as he obtained a plethora of jobs in the Culinary Field as well as he fathered his youngest son, Noah Jr. He embraced the values instilled in him as a young child and never backed down from his obstacles. He grew with each lesson learned and always remained focused on creating a better opportunity. He would often say, "it's time to get to the money". Noah was a Hard Worker, a Proud Father, a Reliable Brother, and a Loving Son. He enjoyed spending his time with his son, Noah Jr., who he affectionately called his "Lil' Man" in his toddler years and his "Big Boy" in his upcoming childhood. Noah also loved quality time with his mother, Franshawn, his brothers, and younger sister Alexis. He looked forward to family gatherings and home-cooked meals. Noah was a skillful cook and a natural leader. With these attributes, he held various leadership roles while employed in the Restaurant Industry. Noah loved all sports. He was particularly fond of basketball and was a huge Knickerbocker fan. Anyone who knew him also knew of his love for his hometown team, the New York Knicks.

On November 10, 2021 at 2:21pm as Noah answered God's call to his eternal home, he leaves to cherish his memories: his two sons, Jayden Baker and Noah Breckenridge, Jr.; his mother, Franshawn Breckenridge; his brothers, Naquin Breckenridge, Aaron Breckenridge, Noel Breckenridge (twin), Marc Seck, Chauncey Breckenridge, and Malik Breckenridge; his sisters, Renee Danzy, Danielle Rivers-Muse, and Alexis Beckford; his aunts, Marcia Breckenridge and Wendy Breckenridge; his Uncle Travis Breckenridge; his cousins, Donald Breckenridge, Kalyn McLauren, and Brandon Breckenridge; his nieces, Chelsea Muse and Ka'lani Richardson; his nephews, Barack Danzy, Buchanan Danzy, and Kalief Richardson; his long-term special friend, Amira Demorth who was also his youngest son's mother; and a host of family, relatives and friends. He will be deeply missed.

TO MY SONS Family Tree

A limb has fallen from the family tree
I hear a voice that whispers, 'Grieve not for me'
Remember the best times, the laughter, the songs
The good I lived while I was strong
Continue my heritage, I'm counting on you.
Keep on smiling, the sun will shine through.
My mind is at ease, my soul is at rest
Remembering all...how I was truly blessed.
Continue traditions, no matter how small.
Go on with your lives, don't stare at the wall.
I miss you all dearly so keep up your chin
Until that fine day we're together again.
