Obituary

On November 17, 1944, Susie was born in St. Helena Island, Beaufort, South Carolina, to the late Henry "Wolfman" Jenkins and Mary Wilson and raised by her grandmother, Galzena Small. As a child, she was educated in the public school system of Beaufort County and enjoyed spending time with her family.

Susie left for New York City in the early 1960s at a young age and lived with her beloved cousin, Shirley. While in New York, Susie met Hal Truell and eventually married. Together they had three sons and raised a beautiful family.

Susie was known for her work ethic and took on many roles while living in New York. She worked as a seamstress at Ruben Bead, Inc. in the Garment District, a sales clerk at Conway Store, and later retired as a school lunch helper at the Department of Education.

Susie was a longtime, faithful, and active member of First Corinthian Baptist Church. She served on the Nurses' Ministry, where she helped take care of people of the congregation and did so for many years until she fell ill.

The Chain Will Link Again

Little did we know that morning,
God was going to call your name.

In life we loved you dearly,
in death we do the same.

It broke our hearts to lose you,
you did not go alone.

For part of us went with you,
the day God called you home.

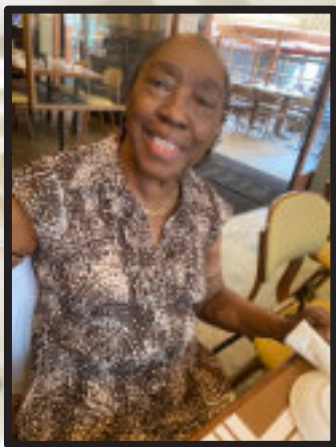

You left us beautiful memories,
your love is still our guide.

And although we cannot see you,
you are always by our side.

Our family chain is broken, and nothing seems the same.

But as God calls us one by one,
the chain will link again.
