Obituary

Kim Woolridge was born to Igene Woolridge and the late James Barnes, on May 3rd 1961 in Newark, NJ. Kim received her education within the Newark Public School System and continued her studies in HealthCare where she attended to the needs of others. Kim enjoyed spending time with her family and friends. You would often find Kim in the kitchen cooking for family or cleaning while fussing about the fact that someone left something out of place or failed to clean up after themselves. Kim really enjoyed cleaning! She constantly dreamt of starting her own cleaning company. To test the waters, she started cleaning business offices. Kim was known for her outspokenness; don't ask her opinion if you were not ready for her answer. She could often be found hanging out with her brother Kareem or traveling with her mother Igene.

Kim was her mother's baby and anyone who knew Igene or Kim knew this was a fact. Anytime Igene was invited out, you just knew Kim was coming too, the duo was inseparable. Please keep Igene in your prayers during this difficult time.

Kim is survived by her mother Igene, her brother Kareem, Kareem's fiancé' Dartisha L. Holman and her nephew Armani. Kim is preceded in death by her grandparents Henry and Robbie Woolridge. Kim leaves behind one uncle, two aunts and a host of cousins and friends.
