

Precious Memories

You ever wonder where love had been / how powerful it is from within / how it heals blesses and fortifies / all those who confess and testifies / it brings light to what lies in the dark / like a raging flame born from a spark / all that is given and all that is seen / it makes life so colorful and pristine / love transcends all that is known / as it showers down from Heaven's throne / its endless timeless and holds no shape / but always ready to fill any heart agape / it can be thunderous or refreshing / perhaps silent, a whisper or even a scream / it's been expressed as subtle as a baby's touch and uplifting when you're in a clutch / HE exemplified HIS love by way of the cross / a selfless act at a greater cost / so if you wondered where love has been / and you've asked yourself again and again / humble your heart and surrender your soul / love will find you, guide you, and make you whole.
