Obituary

Jean Delores Battle was born April 1, 1936 in Paterson, NJ, the fourth child of Alfred J. Battle and Pauline (Nixon) Battle. Jean was educated in the Paterson school system and graduated from Central High School. After graduating, she went to work for Prudential Insurance Company, where she was employed as a Claims Examiner until retiring in 1991.

Jean was a devout Christian and a lifelong member of St. Luke Baptist Church in Paterson. She was more than a member, Jean was a Servant, as a Sunday School teacher, an officer in the Red Rose Society, and a member of the junior choir and the adult choir.

Jean's activism extended beyond her service in the Church and included her participation in the historic March on Washington for Jobs and Freedom in 1963.

Jean had a passion for travel, and she visited countries in South America, Asia, Africa and Europe. In addition, she served as travel coordinator, arranging trips for church members and friends.

Jean had an unmistakable, hardy laugh that everyone enjoyed. She loved spending time with her family and friends.

Jean was predeceased by her parents, brothers; Herbert and Alfred Jr., and sister; Patricia.

She is survived by her sisters; Gloria Battle of Elmwood Park and Joyce Inge of Saddle Brook, her aunt; Mary Pleasant of New York City, her nephew; Herbert Jr. (Karen D.), nieces; Karen J. Battle, Diane Battle, Kimberly Inge, and Kelli Inge, her faithful caregiver. In addition, she leaves a number of cousins, great nieces and nephews.

*"Life is short, so make it worthwhile.
Don't spend time grieving, just spend it with a smile."*
