A Time To Be Born

Ronald Anthony Lomax lovingly known to all as (Dad, Gampi, Uncle Buckles and Buck) to all departed this side of glory on June 11, 2022. He was born November 5, 1961 in Youngstown, Ohio. His parents Josephine Lomax and Ronald Harris were excited to welcome their first child into this world.

In 1965 he moved to Brooklyn, NY where he attended PS.175 in Brownsville. In 1977 Buckles relocated to Fort Greene where he met Debra Collins in JHS 265 they attended Eastern District High School together and became high school sweethearts.

A Time To Live

Buckles would start his journey; he joined the army joking around downtown with Debra and signed up. Lol he didn't think he would be deployed, but he didn't back down. He was a provider. He later married Debra and had four children Candice, Charisma, Ronald and Tyriff. Buckles was passionate and excited about becoming a Mason in which he served several years at Martin Luther King Lodge #1. In his last several years he was employed at Morgan State University. He would have retired in five years and boy oh boy was he planning a party. He loved family, friends, sports, playing cards, cracking jokes, especially singing and dancing with his sisters. He had a special place in heart for all his nieces, nephews and god kids (Darrell he was proud of you). He always talks about Meeka being his first niece.

A Time To Meet The King

We thought of you today, but that is nothing new. We thought about you yesterday, and days before that too. We think of you in silence, we often speak your name. Now all we have are memories, and your picture in a frame. Your memory is our keepsake, which we'll never part. God has you in his keeping, we have you in our heart.

Love, Your Kids
