

We Love You

A Million Tears

A bouquet of beautiful memories,
Sprayed with a million tears,
Wishing God could have spared you,
If just for a few more years.

It does not take a special day,
For us to think of you.
Each Mass we hear, each prayer we say,
Is offered up to you.

We cannot bring the old days back,
When we were all together,
The family chain is broken now,
But memories live forever.

It was a sudden parting,
Too bitter to forget,
Only those who loved you,
Are the ones who will never forget.

The blow was hard, the shock severe,
To part with one we loved so dear,
Our loss is great, we'll not complain,
But trust in God to meet again.

Obituary

Aubrey Morrison, also known as Bumbry, born on March 6th, 1969, Port Mourant Bloomfield Guyana. Attended Alclyn primary school, didn't get a chance to finish due to lack of poverty. As a kid he was a mischievous kid, at the same time very loving, one of a kind to each and every soul he met.

He was a very handy person, loved to work, always helped around the house as far as cleaning, painting, and washing the house. He was not the perfect person, but willing to do anything you asked.

As Bumbry transitioned to his teenage years, he became a girl's man. As going through many females in his adult years, he finally met our beautiful mother Bibi Azeeza, through a mutual family of Aubrey named Gusho. They dated for two years, then had their first child Dhanita. They then got married, followed by eight other kids. Then decided to migrate to the u.s by his late mother Basodah Morrison and Charles Morrison. The process of getting his kids and himself to the u.s, the embassy didn't want all his kids to come at once, but as a father he stood by word and made sure him and kids were in the u.s, the same time, left his wife behind for a year, but as for a husband he made sure his lived on his late mother Basodah Morrison living soul so his wife could be near him ASAP. making it into the u.s was a great opportunity for him, his wife and kids. When moved to the u.s Aubrey had odd jobs, even though he was a great soul, he had his flaws far as in drinking his boose (He loved his boose constantly). He welcomed his grandkids into this world, followed by his daughter in laws and son in laws. He would invite strangers in, one thing for sure he can cook that pepper pot well. His favorite word to us is "element" and his favorite phrase is "calm down". "I want each and every person in this room to know that not every soul is not a perfect soul, keep that in mind". Despite his flaws he was a perfect husband and father to his wife and kids even to this day".
