Obituary

Aaron Joshua Carter also known as ‘Josh’ was born in Livingston, NJ on June 30, 1994. While he slept, he left his home, left this life; but now he lives in eternity.

Aaron lived his early childhood in Long Beach, CA. If anyone asked him where he was from, he would say “I’m from Long Beach, CA”. Aaron attended public school in Newark, then went on to attend Essex County College before moving on to attend Lincoln Tech, Union, NJ under the trade of Auto Technician. Aaron was employed at UPS, Secaucus, NJ for several years, then moved on the work under his trade a Jiffy Lube, Cranford, NJ where he was currently employed at the time of his death. Aaron was a loving father to his daughter Aariah. There was no doubt he loved her as much as she loved him. He was the baby of our family, the quietest of us all, but was always smiling. “Aaron was a gamer” – a loud gamer, but a true gamer.

Aaron is preceded in death by his grandparents Clinton and Georgia Dicks and Mary Carter. Aaron leaves behind: his daughter Aariah Aaliyah Carter; parents Keith and Brenda Carter, siblings Sharnall (Predest) Davis, Saleem Dicks and Keith Carter Jr; nieces Lachel, Prashanti, and one nephew Vashon; aunts Margaret Tyler (Frank), Emma Kearny, Vanessa (Carlton) Smith; uncles Mark (Emma) Dicks, Michael (Susan) Dicks, Kenneth Dicks, Bruce, Craig and Darryl Carter. A host of cousins, friends, his daughter’s besties from Jiffy Lube and then ‘his boys’: Keon, Marcus (Bock), Marcus and Jaleel, who were all like brothers to him.
