Obituary

Patrick Headley Robinson, was born on August 5, 1956 in Denham Town, Kingston, Jamaica, West Indies; the first born to Stanley Robinson and Francella Bell. Always the life of the party and a vibrant presence to family and friends alike, Patrick was a ball of energy at even a young age. He attended Mount Regale Primary and Denham Town High School.

As a young man, Patrick worked at the Jamaica Gleaner (newspaper) Company and was one of the lead dancers at the Jamaican Broadcasting Corporation program called “Where It’s At”. Fate would have it that this is where he met the love of his life, Pauline Carnegie. Patrick had a great passion for music and thoroughly enjoyed working as a disc jockey for these many years.

Patrick and Pauline began building their life together in Jamaica but then decided to move their young family to the United States in August 1986. He worked as a baker at Pecter Field Bakery for almost a decade, which explains his love of cooking and good taste for all things culinary. Later, he joined the staff at New York Presbyterian and worked within that community for close to 30 years. Patrick loved his work family and took pride in serving well.

Patrick was a devout family man and instilled the importance of having an active church life to his family. He served as a trustee and an usher while attending Westchester United Methodist Church and happily served in several capacities while at his most recent church, St. John’s United Methodist. He enjoyed his role as an usher, choir member (United Methodist Men and the Men’s Chorus), and the Multi-Media Ministry.

Patrick was known to always be paired up with his partner in crime, brother-in-law Venice. If there was a gathering, whether music or not, Patrick would draw a crowd with his legendary dance moves. He loved life! Patrick loved his God. Loved his wife. Loved his family. He embraced all family (whether in-law, distant relative, or otherwise) as his own. Love was his primary way of communicating.

Patrick’s love of life brought him to traveling often and lavishing on the NY Knicks and NY Jets. His energy, the joy he brought to our lives and his love for those around him will be greatly missed.

Patrick was preceded in death by his brother Keith, his father Stanley, his son PJ and his mother Francella. Patrick leaves to mourn; his wife, Pauline; sisters- Marjorie Rosemarie and Marlo; brother – Brian; sons– Jason (& wife Rita) and Jermaine; daughter – Kasheena; nieces – Camesha & Kimberly; grandnieces- Samia, Maddie & Emoni; many grandchildren; along with countless other nieces, nephews, brothers, sisters, cousins inherited through marriage.

Somewhere the Sun is Shining

*Somewhere the sun is shining
Through mists of hazy blue:
Somewhere there is no sorrow
And hearts are happy and true.
Somewhere there is no parting,
Somewhere there is no pain;
Somewhere loved ones are waiting
To greet us once again.
And tho' beyond our understanding
We will put our hearts at rest
Somewhere in all His Wisdom
A loving God knows best*
